PRAYER

“With all the saints let us commend ourselves and our whole lives unto Christ our God.”

Getting Started

Where have you heard this prayer before?

We hear this prayer at least six times during the Divine Liturgy. This prayer helps us to remember that we are not alone. In this prayer, we remember the saints. We join with them. Together with them we commend—or give—ourselves to God. How much of ourselves? Our whole selves. 100%!

This sounds like a lot until we remember that it's God who has given us everything that we have. Without Him, what would we have?

We also remember that the saints have given all of their lives to God. They show us how we can do the same. We can learn from their lives. In this booklet we will meet some saints who serve as good examples for us.

In this booklet, you will find

- stories about saints,
- facts about the saints,
- verses that relate to the themes,
- ideas about how to practice the themes,
- information about where your money goes when you add your tithe (or offering) to the collection, and
- activities to help you remember what you're learning.

With your parents' permission, you can also visit www.antiochian.org/tithe, where you can find other information and activities, such as longer stories, icons to color, posters, and a kit to make a special envelope to keep your money until it's time to give it in the collection at Church.

DEFINITIONS

Exemplar

Someone who is worthy of imitation, an ideal that serves as a pattern, an archetype.

Tithe

to give 10%; for example, one dollar of every 10 dollars.

This booklet introduces tithing (giving 10% back to God). Tithing is one way for us to begin to give our whole selves to God. As we meet and follow the saints, we will become more like them and more like God.

Meet the Saints

Get ready to learn more about these saints!

Saint Joachim and Saint Anna were thankful and gave their daughter back to God.

Saint Raphael of Brooklyn showed dedication to God by establishing churches in North America.

Saint Innocent of Alaska trusted God by traveling to difficult places and serving God.

Saint Emmelia and Saint Basil were good stewards of their family.

These saints are good examples of how we can love God with 100% of our time, talents, and treasure.

Along with these saints, “Let us commend ourselves and our whole lives unto Christ our God.”

- The saints demonstrate that we should give all of our lives as an offering to God.
- One way we can offer ourselves to God is by giving money in the collection at Church. A tithe (10%) is one dollar for every 10 dollars.

WHAT HAPPENS TO YOUR OFFERING?

When we tithe, where does the money go?

Part of the money goes to your priest and bishop so they can serve God.

- List some of the ways that you and others benefit from your priest and bishop.
- What expenses does your priest have?
- What expenses does your bishop have?

Do the Math

One way we can show God that we love him is to give money in the collection at Church.

This week, Sophia received her $3 allowance, $12 from her paper route, and a $10 birthday gift from her aunt. She put $5 in the collection at Church. What percentage did she give?

What is the total of your allowance, earnings from a job, and gifts?

How much did you receive this week?

How much is a tithe (10%) of that amount?

How much do you put in the collection?

THEN AND NOW

- In the Old Testament, God asked the Jews to give 10% of their crops and animals, plus other offerings, to support the priests, hold religious feasts, and to help the poor.
- In the New Testament, Christians gave generously to provide for the needs of others; some even gave their houses and land!
- Early Church fathers, such as John Chrysostom and Saint Irenaeus, encouraged Christians to give a greater percentage than the Jews.

Meet Saint Joachim and Saint Anna

exemplars of
Thankfulness

Let me tell you a story about the most famous grandparents who ever lived, how they kept praying, and how they gave thanks when God answered their prayers.

In Israel during the first century before Christ, there lived a shepherd named Joachim and his wife Anna. They loved God very much and found ways to thank Him for all the good things He had done for them. They always divided their money into three parts: one part they gave to the temple and one part to people who were poor; they used the third part for their own needs.

Joachim and Anna didn't have any children even after 50 years of marriage. They prayed daily and promised God that if He would give them a child, in thanksgiving they would give the child back to God.

Joachim regularly went to the temple to give offerings to God. One day, when Joachim arrived at the temple, the priest told him to go away. He said that God didn't want Joachim's offering because he and Anna didn't have any children. The priest thought that God was keeping His blessing of children from Joachim and Anna because He was not pleased with them. Joachim and Anna were sad and hurt. Joachim took his flocks into the wilderness to pray and fast, saying "May my tears be my food and the wilderness my home until God hears me." Anna went into her garden to pray. She reminded God that even the birds in her garden had families, but that she did not.

God sent the Archangel Gabriel to Joachim in the desert and Anna in her garden to tell them that He had heard their prayers and they would have a child. Gabriel instructed them to go to the Golden Gate in Jerusalem, where they met and embraced each other. This scene is often depicted in icons.

Joachim and Anna gave thanks to God for hearing their prayers. Nine months later, Anna gave birth as Gabriel had promised. They named their daughter Mary.

When Mary was three years old, out of gratitude to God, Joachim and Anna kept their promise. They took her to the temple so that she could serve God there. During the next seven years until their deaths, they visited Mary often, giving thanks to God for hearing their prayers and for all that He had done for them. When Mary grew up, she became the mother of Jesus.

Every one of us has been blessed by God. Let's think for a minute about what God has given us and be thankful.

One way we can thank God is by giving something back to Him. What can we give back to God?

To tithe is to show God we know how to say "Thank you" for what He gives to us.

Meet Saint Raphael of Brooklyn

exemplar of
Dedication to God

To tithe is to take a step
on the path
of being dedicated to God.

Here's a story about a man who was dedicated to God.
He did everything he could to serve God and the Church.

In the same week that Abraham Lincoln was elected president of the United States, Saint Raphael was born in Beirut, Lebanon. His family had just escaped from persecution in Damascus, Syria. More than 1,500 people, including the family's priest, were killed because they were Christians. When it was safe to return, the family went back to their homeland, where Saint Raphael spent most of his childhood. He was a good student who liked school. When he was 13, his family was too poor to pay for his education. Fortunately, he was accepted into the Patriarchate school in Damascus. He was such a good student that he was chosen to be a substitute teaching assistant when he was 16. When he was 18 years old, he became a monk.

Later, he continued his studies near Constantinople (in Turkey) and in Kiev (in Russia). He was ordained a deacon at age 25 and a priest when he was 28. While in Russia, he wrote many articles and books.

One day when he was 34 years old, Saint Raphael received an invitation to serve as a priest in New York. Saint Raphael loved God and His people, so he agreed. He was welcomed by a delegation of Arab Christians who were eagerly waiting for their new priest. Within two weeks, he set up a chapel in lower Manhattan and began to hold services.

Before long, he realized that there were many Orthodox people scattered throughout North America who did not have a priest. Some of them were leaving the Orthodox faith. Saint Raphael had compassion on them. To serve them, he traveled, often by train, throughout the United States, Canada, and Mexico. He celebrated the Divine Liturgy, preached, listened to confessions, performed marriages, and baptized people. He also started 30 new churches in less than 20 years. He also became a bishop, the first one to be consecrated as a bishop on American soil.

Twice he was offered important positions back in his homeland, but both times he declined. He loved the American people and dedicated his life to serve them.

Saint Raphael departed this life in 1915 at the age of 54. He is called the Good Shepherd of the Lost Sheep in America. He took care of Christians who needed a priest and still intercedes for us today.

See what good can happen when we dedicate our lives to God? Serving God can help more people than we will ever know!

Meet Saint Innocent of Alaska

exemplar of
Trust

Saint Innocent of Alaska trusted God in all things. This is his story.

About 200 years ago in Russia, there lived a young priest named Father John. He and his family were content in their parish. One day, Father John learned about people in faraway Alaska who wanted a priest to come and teach them about God. At that time, Alaska was wild and dangerous and no other priest was qualified or wanted to go. Father John trusted God and volunteered to go. So, on May 7, 1823, Father John, his wife Catherine, his son, his elderly mother, and his brother began their trip to Alaska. The difficult journey of more than 2,000 miles took more than a year. During their trip, a daughter was born to Father John and Catherine.

When they arrived in Alaska, Father John and his family built and moved into a dirt hut. He traveled by kayak, dog sled, and even reindeer, often through frigid weather and storms, to tell the people about God. He learned six dialects of the native people and created an alphabet for them. Using this new alphabet, he translated the Scriptures, and wrote books for the people. He built churches, orphanages, and schools. He taught the people how to make furniture, how to build houses, how to grow crops, and how to take care of animals. Best of all, he trusted God and showed the people the way to God's Kingdom.

Many years later, after Catherine died, Father John became a bishop, taking the name Innocent in honor of a saint from his hometown.

Saint Innocent was the first bishop to live in Alaska. When the United States purchased Alaska from Russia in 1867, he immediately replaced the Russian language in the services with English. Saint Innocent became the Metropolitan of Moscow, and continued telling people about God and encouraging others to become missionaries. His favorite verse was "The Lord guides a man safely in the way he should go." (Psalm 37:23)

Saint Innocent trusted God so much that he went to faraway places to serve God. Imagine what God can do with our lives as we trust Him wherever He leads us.

To tithe is to trust that God will provide for all we truly need.

Meet Saint Emmelia and Saint Basil

exemplars of
Stewardship

Can you imagine growing up in a family that has eight saints in it? I'm going to tell you about a family like that. The parents were good stewards of the children that God gave to them. A steward is someone who takes care of something or someone on behalf of another person.

More than 1600 years ago in what is now the country of Turkey, there was a woman named Emmelia and a man named Basil who was a lawyer and teacher. They were both from Christian families—Emmelia's parents had been martyred for their faith and Basil's mother was Saint Macrina the Elder. Emmelia and Basil got married and God gave them 10 children.

Emmelia and Basil loved their children and trained them in the ways of God. They took their children to the services of the Church and taught them the Scriptures. They gave generously to the Church and to people who were poor. They lived and demonstrated godly lives and are considered saints of the Church.

Six of their children also became saints. One of them is Saint Basil the Great, one of the Three Holy Hierarchs. He wrote the Divine Liturgy that we celebrate during Great Lent and special feast days. To help tell them apart, we call the father Saint Basil the Elder and the son Saint Basil the Great.

Their oldest daughter, Saint Macrina (whom we call the Younger to distinguish from her grandmother Saint Macrina the Elder) was a leader in the family. After her fiance died, she decided to stay single and helped to raise her younger siblings. When her brothers Basil and Gregory returned from college full of worldly knowledge and pride, she exhorted them to be humble. They became monks and eventually bishops. Saint Emmelia's and Saint Basil's other children included Naucratius, a monk who died at age 27, and Theosebia, a deaconess.

After Basil the Elder departed this life, Emmelia sold almost everything to start a monastery with Macrina the Younger and some of their freed servants. On her deathbed, she gathered her daughter Macrina and her youngest son Peter (who became a bishop and saint). She said, "God, I offer back to You my firstborn child as my first-fruit offering and my tenth child as my tithe."

God entrusted Saint Emmelia and Saint Basil the Elder with 10 children to care for. They demonstrate for us how to be good stewards of what God has given us.

We can be good stewards by showing others how to live a virtuous life like Emmelia and Basil did for their children, and by taking care of what God has given us.
